ON THE COVER:

Irene Copie has been creating pysanky (pronounced pih-sahn-KIH) for nearly 40 years. She immigrated to the United States from Ukraine when she was just 4 years old. As she grew older, she learned to create beautiful pysanky following the traditional process of Ukrainian artists before her.

Pysanky (plural or pysanka for a single egg) are decorated with traditional Ukrainian folk designs using a wax-resist method. The word pysanka comes from the verb pysaty, "to write", as the designs are not painted on, but written with beeswax.

The motifs written on each pysanka carry symbolic meaning; the bird on the cover symbolizes the fulfillment of wishes and fertility. A pysanka with four or more colors represents a family's happiness, prosperity, love, health and achievements.

For more information about the art and tradition of Ukrainian pysanky, please visit: www.pysanky.info to learn about this great pastime.

MUSEUM - SOLANDER CASES

"Solander Case," has a long history: The naturalist Daniel Charles Solander, traveling with Captain Cook in the South Seas in the 1760's, constructed a book-shaped case to hold the manuscript records of the voyage. A case that's been around for some 250 years must have something going and we keep making improvements.

It is our finest case for storage and protection of your most valuable prints, photographs, maps and drawings. The case tops have a lip that helps keep out air-borne contaminants. The thick walls provide outstanding physical protection. Sides and spine are made of low-resin basswood for superior stacking strength. The top and bottom are thick (.142) binder's board. The interior bottom tray is made of 100% 4 Ply Cotton Mat Board, top is lined with white acid- and lignin-free card stock. The spine of the case is hinged so that the top can fold open and lay flat for easy removal of contents. The heavy-weight, acrylic-coated black cloth exterior is durable, assuring long-lasting use. Sturdy, latches that open down to protect artwork, are designed to withstand repeated opening and closing. A metal label holder accepts a standard 3 x 1¼" label. All hardware is nickel-plated.

2" Onyx Portfolio Box

ONYX PORTFOLIO BOX

Portfolio boxes are often the ideal choice where "presentation" is as important as storage and protection. This is particularly applicable for fine photographs, and artworks that are regularly presented or viewed. Our Onyx Portfolio can be considered a "locker" that converts to a "stage."

Ruggedly constructed and well sealed against dust and contaminants, portfolios flip open to provide a handsome, complimentary presentation for the artwork.

Portfolios come in a full range of standard sizes, including digital formats. The most popular formats are offered in a choice of three depths, with white or black lined interiors. The exterior is a black textured buckram fabric.

The hinged clamshell design allows the portfolio to lie flat when open; this provides easy access and facilitates smooth and safe transfer of contents from one side to the other with minimal handling.

DROP FRONT BOXES

Our Drop Front Boxes are the most popular storage containers for archives, museums and other institutions concerned with the long-term storage of photographs and documents. Also popular with photographers for storing and organizing their images.

This style of box is the optimal choice for materials that are best stored flat, such as: photographs, digital prints, letters, pamphlets, documents, newspapers, musical scores and much more.

Boxes are manufactured from heavyweight ArchivalGrade™ boxboard ; corrosion-treated metal-edging provides excellent protection from corner damage and extra sturdiness. The two-piece design affords a double wall of protection and adds to the rigid construction necessary for safe stacking.

- Reinforced metal edges for corner protection
- Drop-front hinge for easy access
- Available in several standard sizes
- Rigid construction; designed for stacking

A hinged "drop-front" panel on the long side of the base ensures that materials can be inserted, removed or examined safely, without the risk of bending or flexing the contents, further minimizing the risk of corner damage. This open design also eliminates the need to remove a stack of materials to access items at the bottom.

Available in several standard sizes with options in color (tan, gray, white or black) and depth (1½", 2" or 3"). Embossed label areas simplify quick and accurate placement of 2" x 4" labels. Box tops have scalloped finger grips along the sides to facilitate opening. It goes without saying that only acid-free archival materials are used in the construction of these boxes.

FILM STORAGE SYSTEMS

Save 15% with Kit!

We have combined several popular items to provide everything needed to organize and preserve film. Kits are priced to save 15% over individually purchased products.

These kits provide three levels of protection and organization: Individual film is protected by a transparent archival sleeve. A number of sleeved films are then grouped into archival folders (35mm) or envelopes (4x5"). All go into our archival box (02-003).

We offer kits for 35mm (6-frame strips) and 4x5". However, you must determine whether you prefer POLYPROPYLENE sleeves or POLYESTER (commonly called "Mylar"). Both are archivally safe (See page 29).

Each kit includes a Hinged Lid Box (02-003), 100 Polypropylene or Polyester sleeves and either 50 negative file folders (35mm) or envelopes (4x5").

1 Drop Front "Master Box", size 11¾ x 15 x 3", that houses the other components.

6 Slide Boxes which fit into the Master Box; each box holds about 200 cardboard-mounted slides or approximately 100 glass slides.

(Slide Boxes and Slide Trays can be ordered separately, see below. The "Master Box" is one of our Drop Front Boxes (01-033, p. 20).

NEWSPAPER & MAGAZINE STORAGE KITS

Newsprint, by its very nature, is a poor candidate for long term preservation; it is manufactured at the lowest possible cost and contains acid, lignin and other impurities that do not bode well for long life. However, you can extend the life of the newsprint by properly storing it under optimal conditions. Start by measuring the length and width of you newspapers or magazines and order the appropriate kits. Place the materials in the bags and then organize into the archival boxes. Do not “stress” newspapers by packing them tightly... pack them loosely.

Kits include: one DropFront Box, 10 Poly bags, and one Re-Usable Desiccant canister. You choose between the Metal canister which is re-activated in a vented oven and the Plastic canister which is restored in a microwave oven.

NOTE: If the newspaper or magazine is of important historical or personal value, consider contacting a paper conservator who can neutralize some of the harmful impurities prior to storage. Find helpful links on the “Archivery” section of our web site.

DESICCANT CANISTERS

These re-usable canisters are perfect for extracting harmful moisture within small spaces, boxes and containers. Protects up to three cubic feet of sealed space per unit. Simply include one of these canisters with your documents or artifacts and water vapor is contained within the desiccant canister to maintain a safe relative humidity. When silica gel turns pink you can restore the metal canisters in a warm vented oven or the plastic canister in a microwave (follow included instructions).

Combines the protection of a metal edge box with the convenience of a ring binder.

BINDER BOX™

Combines the protection of an archival, metal edge box with the convenience of a three-ring binder.

The BinderBox is ideal for organizing photo files, documents and genealogical records. It lends itself especially well to "active storage" of collections, where work is repeatedly accessed. The main advantage of the BinderBox over just a binder, is the extra protection it provides. It is fully enclosed and offers a superior barrier against dust, dirt and pollutants. It also secures the contents against damage or loss from accidental drops or when being transported.

The 1½" locking O-rings accept pages up to 10 × 12". A cutaway front increases access for safe page turning. Embossed labeling areas on the box allow quick and accurate application of labels.

STABILO-ALL PENCILS

Writing on the backs of contemporary photographs can be tricky because they have a polyethylene surface. Conservators advise not to use marking or ink pens because they can transfer and are not reversible. Standard graphite #2 pencils work well on paper backed photo's but not plastic coated surfaces. Stabilo-All pencils will mark clearly and legibly on the backs of photographs or film negatives as well as glass and metal surfaces. They are water soluble and will wipe off with a damp cloth on smooth surfaces and erase easily on paper. Remember to work on a clean hard surface and apply a light touch to avoid seeing the writing on the image side. In any case, write near the edges not in the middle to be safe.

RENAISSANCE WAX

Originally developed at the British Museum in the early 1950's because commercial waxes based on natural waxes (beeswax and carnauba wax) contained acids. Renaissance Wax is a high-quality blend of refined micro-crystalline waxes which remain neutral. Protects cleaned surfaces from handling, staining and pollutants without causing discoloration. When applied correctly – in thin layers – the wax is very economical in use, a little goes a long way. Designed for long-term protection it effectively cleans and polishes all solid surfaces including metal, wood, marble, shell, stone, ivory, plastic, leather and even paper; neither staining nor discoloring. It has high moisture resistance, and can be used to protect paper book covers from finger prints and as a protective coating on photographs. This wax will provide moisture resistance when applied to gloss surface inkjet prints; should not be used on matt surface papers. The wax does not stain or darken even white paper also adds luster to water colors and other works on paper.

Envelopes

HIGH-DENSITY POLY ENVELOPES

A much better choice than "glassine," these envelopes protect prints, films and drawings from damaging effects of handling, dust, pollution and moisture. Because envelopes are free of static cling and don't attract dust, they are ideal for protecting film, as well as pastels or charcoal drawings. High-Density polyethylene is translucent. It is clear enough for easy identification but not for detailed examination. The anti-static qualities of the material reduce the risk of scratching or abrasion from entrapped dust particles. Our HD polyethylene is free of slip agents. Envelopes have a 1/8" lip on the open side for ease of use and meet the standards for enclosures in ISO 18902.

FILM INTERLEAVING FOLDERS (PKG. OF 50)

Used in conjunction with our envelopes, interleaving folders allow easy and safe insertion and removal of film. For long-term storage place the open end of the folder into the envelope first, for optimal dust protection. When frequent handling is expected, turn the folder around and use one of the flaps to remove the film. Polyester offers the highest optical clarity.

SIDE LOCK FILM SLEEVES

Film sleeves are available in either a clear 3 mil. polypropylene or polyester (Melinex 516 - Dupont's replacement for Mylar D). Each are archivally safe; the polyester is super-clear and more chemically inert, while polypropylene is more economical. A self-locking side fold holds film in place. Sleeves 'unlock' to open completely for safer film removal without sliding image inside the sleeve.

TRANSLUCENT INTERLEAVING (PKG. OF 100)

Archival grade glassine is a traditional interleaving material for use with prints, etchings, watercolor, drawings and ink-jet prints; as long as they do not have a gelatin protective layer. Not recommended for black and white silver gelatin and traditional color photographic prints. Other applications are interleaving book illustrations, wrapping books and packaging paintings. Easy to handle when interleaving is removed to show prints.

Smooth surface, both side with a pure white color; unbuffered neutral pH (7.0+/-5), weight 39 Lbs (63 gsm), caliper 2.52 mils.

This paper is specifically design as a interleaving paper for artwork and documents. The light weight paper has the thinness of a tissue and the stiffness of paper making it easy to handle and use. Because of the light weight 45 gsm the paper has a slight transparency which allows for identification of a image without removing the interleaving sheet. Available in cut sheets sizes and rolls sized for contemporary ink jet papers.

MOUNTING CORNERS & TAPE

"3L" brand mounting corners are made of archival safe polypropylene with a high quality pressure-sensitive adhesive that does not come in contact with artwork.

Standard Full Corners: 10mm (3/8"): up to 4x6 prints / 19mm (11/16"): up to 8x10 prints / 32mm (1 1/4"): up to 11x14" prints / 75mm (3"): up to 20x24 prints.

Cut Back Corners: Unique corners designed for use with matted works. The corner covers only the edge of the work, making the corner "invisible" behind the mat. Available in two sizes: 32mm (1 1/4"): up to 11x14 prints / 75mm (3"): up to 20x24 prints.

Mounting Tape and Squares: Non-archival For fast and easy mounting of photos and documents when archival standards are not required. Squares are re-positionable for approximately 5 minutes.

LINEN & TYVEK TAPE

Linen Tape is perfect for hinging window mats, maps and pamphlet folders. Choose between the Acid-Free Linen Tape with a pH –neutral, water-activated adhesive or Tyvek and Filmoplast Tape in white (SH) or black (T) which feature strong pressure-sensitive adhesives. Both are ideal for securely hinging a window mat to backing board; we do not recommend using directly on artwork.

100% COTTON MUSEUM BOARD

For all matting applications. We recommend 4 Ply for window mats and mat backing, which creates a 1/8" separation between artwork and glazing and provides a flat, supportive backing. For smaller sizes, 2 Ply board is an appropriate and economical alternative.

Museum board is made of 100% cotton fiber, processed with artesian well water, free of pollutants and naturally alkaline. Board is acid- and lignin-free and uses alkaline or neutral sizing. All boards are buffered with calcium carbonate for added protection from ambient conditions that often cause the pH of paper to decrease with age.

CONSERVATION MAT BOARD (PKG. OF 25 UNLESS NOTED)

Pearl White has a warm tonality when compared to our Bright White Museum Board it is similar to Antique White with less of a yellow tint. The look, feel and cutting characteristics are very similar to mat board made from cotton pulp and has a similar lustrous surface.

Conservation Board uses alpha-cellulose pulp from purified wood fiber thus it is more economical to manufacture than cotton paper but has the same stable and long-lasting properties. Purified wood pulp paper has a long history of being safe to use with paper artwork, photographs and documents. Board is acid- and lignin-free and uses alkaline or neutral sizing. All boards are buffered with calcium carbonate for added protection from ambient conditions that often cause the pH of paper to decrease with age.
